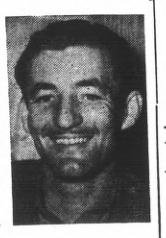
Vol. 48, No. 7 | San Francisco, California | Friday, Oct. 29, 1948

HIGHLIGHTS OF CURRENT EVENTS

By BILL DENNIS



Barring a complete reversal by the two splinter parties of Wallace and Thurmond, and using as criteria the opinion polls, voter apathy (based on the light registration in New York State) and the Republican sweep of the congressional elections in 1946, there seems to be little doubt of a Republican victory in the forthcoming election.

The Republican candidate, Thomas Dewey, promises his constituents a complete housecleaning in Washington, if elected. Reduction in the over-all cost of government by removal of the "great sprawling bureaucracy" created under 16 years of New Deal "mismanagement," is one of the keynotes easily detected throughout the Republican campaign. Ardent Republicans take heart at Dewey's promises of a return to business-like efficiency in government. To most people who favor in broad perspective the Republican point of view, this means less governmental controls, more freedom of initiative and an over-all reaffirmation of the "laissez faire" economic principle.

SUPPORTS UN

Mr. Dewey's stand on the issues of foreign policy, although a little more obscure than the domestic issues, seems fairly well defined. He has pledged his support of the UN, has reaffirmed the "firm but fair" policy in our dealings with other nations, a continuation of the bipartisan foreign policy, and support of the draft on the basis of national security. For a glimpse into the future in this area of foreign affairs one might check the personal and public record of John Foster Dulles, Deweys adviser on foreign affairs, the man most often mentioned as number one choice for the office of Secretary of State.

REPUBLICAN PHILOSOPHY

The avowed principles declared by the Republican candidate, in this writer's opinion, are consistent with over-all Republican philosophy. We feel certain misgivings about Mr. Dewey's ability to perform many of the functions which he has promised to initiate. It may not be as easy as it looks. People generally, even Republicans, have come to expect certain services from their government which may not prune and trim too readily.

Chances for the Democratic party capturing a majority in the Senate seem good at this writing. Such a victory would probably mean a continuation of the kind of split already existing in the Truman administration.

However, the bulk of the old 80th Congress will be in the House to "help" Mr. Dewey along. Frankly, we can't see how Mr. Dewey is going to keep these opposing forces working for constructive legislation; but apparently he is confident that he can.

Well, we wish him luck when he comes up against the Knutsons and the Tabers. He's going to need it.

Abners Off--Maes Look...

Grab Your Ticket! Bus Bound For Game

A bus carrying 37 rooters will leave tomorrow noon for the Cal Aggie football game at Davis. The bus departs from in front of College Hall and is due to arrive at Davis at 2 p.m. It will return about 7:30 p.m.

Toni Robinson, member-at-large, requested that all students possessing bus tickets be aboard by 11:45.

State yell leaders will lead the Gater rooting section at the game. They have requested that all rooters wear white.

Music Educators Convene on Campus Tomorrow For Revue

Bay Area members of the Music Educators National Conference will convene for an all day session on the campus tomorrow. The program will be under the sponsorship of the College Division of Creative Arts.

Highlights of the day's activities will be:

9:30 a.m.—Registration and luncheon ticket sale, Anderson Hall.

10:00 a.m.—Concert by the San Francisco All-City Junior high School Orchestra, Martin A. Pihl, conductor.

10:35 a.m.—Demonstration by Lorraine Walsh in developing music reading readiness, Frederic Burk Auditorium.

11:50 a.m.—Luncheon and business meeting, Lee Lykins presiding, College Cafeteria.

1:30 p.m.—The S. F. State Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Lee Chrisman, in a program of contemporary American music, in Women's Gym.

2:15 p.m.—California Folklogue, The Golden Trail, Dr. Roy Freeburg. Students are invited to attend the festivities.

FRANCISCAN

Card Sales In Full Swing

Franciscan card sales started with a bang last Monday as Kappa Theta saleswomen and individual salesmen approached prospective customers. The yearbook card campaign will continue until December 1.

Jean Heldoorn, Franciscan editor, announced this week that there must be 1000 cards sold by December deadline or the yearbook will not be published, since the Board of Directors took no action Tuesday on subsidizing, pending a decision of the Board of Control.

The Golden Anniversary of the college will be the central theme of the book and plans are being started by the staff to feature a few historical features and complete pictorial coverage of student and faculty activities, Miss Heldoorn added.

Franciscan cards may be paid for in partial or full payment during the present campaign.

Kappa Theta, service sorority, is handling sales from 11 to 2 daily in front of the Co-op, in the basement of College Hall. Students wishing to procure a Franciscan also may purchase them from individual salesmen who can be distinguished by a lapel card bearing the inscription, "Franciscan Golden Anniversary."

Any student with experience in working on yearbooks and an interest in working on the forthcoming annual should notify Miss Heldoorn. There are openings for staff positions such as Sports Editor, Club Editor, Class Editor, and Administration Editor.

Students to Display Art In Second Biennial Show

Second biennial student art show will be on display in the Co-op on December 6. It is open to all students. See The Golden Gater next week for more details.

Cottons, Jeans Garb For 'Dogpatch' Jig; Snyder Band Plays

Pseudo-Yokums and their neighbors will gather, stag and drag, from 9 to 12 tonight for the Music Federation's annual Sadie Hawkins Day dance. Scene of the jig will be the Women's Gym, transformed into a miniature Dogpatch for the occasion.

Shmoos and Marryin' Sam will provide entertainment, along with Vern Martell and his complete 8-piece hillbilly band, the trio of which proved so popular at the Fed's picnic last month.

"Sam," alias Jay Coulter, will officiate at the "hitchin' post." A prize will be given to the gal who is "hitched" the most during the evening. Although barn dance attire is in order, costumes are optional. Prizes are offered to the most representative Dogpatchers.

George Snyder and his band will provide music for dancing. Largest of the bands employed this semester, Snyder's group includes a vocalist and a vocal quartet..

Refreshments will be handled by Sigma Alpha Eta fraternity.

Admission is 75 cents each with a student body card, $1 without.

Berman, Bohigan Win Frosh Offices

At a meeting of the Freshman class at the Women's Gym Tuesday, Ira Berman and Ann Bohigan were elected president and vice-president in a special run-off election.

Don Johnson had previously been elected secretary-treasurer by clearing a majority of the votes cast for that office at the regular election.

Voting statistics are as follows: Ira Berman, 73 and Sol Weiner, 47 for president; and Ann Bohigan, 62 and Sue Huff 58 for vice-president.

UN Talk By Leonard Via Radio Program

"The United Nations organization should be judged by the amount of progress made in the long term development of understanding among all people rather than by any immediate or spectacular results," stated President J. Paul Leonard on the KNBC "World Affairs are Your Affairs" program last Friday night.

"The world organization has done a remarkable job in the educational field in developing human understanding," he said, "based upon the freedom of information proclamation developed in Geneva last year and the Declaration of Human Rights drafted in Paris. This is the first time a Bill of Rights for the whole world ever has been proclaimed," he said.

Also appearing on the program were Senator Raymond E. Baldwin (R., Conn.); Easton Rothwell, associate director of the Hoover Library and Institute, and Frank Gaines, former acting director of UNRRA in the Pacific area.

The program wac moderated by Frank Clarvoe, editor of the San Francisco News, who declared that to young people, especially, the fate of the United Nations is supremely important because its success or failure will decide the future of the world.

'Cinch' Dance to Follow Cal Poly Tilt Next Week

Delta Gamma Tau, service fraternity, will sponsor a "Cinch" Dance on Friday, November 5, immediately following the Cal Poly game.

Dancing will take place in the Women's Gym from 10 to 1, with music provided by Bob Greenwood and his band. General admission for the affair will be 75 cents with a student body card, and $1 without.

Dr. Tyler Visits State To Evaluate GE Program

Dr. Ralph Tyler, chairman of the Department of Social Sciences at the University of Chicago, is on campus today to consult with members of the General Education program.

The committee is formulating a method of evaluating the present General Education program.

Rally Tryouts Today at 3

There will be tryouts for rally talent today from 3 to 4 in Hut 4. "All interested should try out because this will be the only chance for the rally committee to audition talent before next semester," Phil Ryan, activities commissioner, announced this week.

NSA Meeting Slated at Cal

National Students' Association Representatives of all West Coast colleges will meet for a two-day conference at the University of California Nov. 13-14. George Allen, member-at-large, will represent State.

Under discussion at the confab will be the Purchase Card Plan, a plan devised to fight high prices through mass buying power. Aside from that issue the convention will decide policy on regional level of what events NSA will sponsor.

NSA committee on campus is under organization now, Allen stated. Any students wishing to be on the committee should contact Allen or leave a note in P. O. Box 5. Members so far are: Hank Marscheck, treasurer; Toni Robinson, member-at-large, and Allen.

Recognize Needs At Budget Hearing

Budget hearings at Sacramento were "satisfactorily concluded" last week, according to President J. Paul Leonard.

"The state recognized our additional needs, and although the Board of Finance did not commit itself, we are confident that they will be met.

"Definite questions were raised on only a few items," he added, "and we are sure that what reductions are made will not be serious."

Previously passed by the Department of Education, the budget will next go to the State Ways and Means Committee and then to Governor Warren to be included in his legislative recommendations.

Budget proposals are up 20 per cent over last year, according to President Leonard.

Buy Opera Ducats Now

State has made available a block of 100 tickets on the main floor for seven performances of the Dollar Operas to be presented in November by the New Pacific Opera Company, according to George D. Gibson, associate professor of history and humanities. These tickets, designed to offer the public first rate productions of grand opera at a price all can afford, $1.00, will go on sale in the Student Body Office Monday, Gibson added.

Naming of Field Hypos Homecoming

Speaking before 5000 spectators at the State-Chico football game last Saturday night, President J. Paul Leonard announced that the Lake Merced campus football field had been officially dedicated to David J. Cox, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

President Leonard, Izzie Pivnick, head of the Alumni Association, and Earl Homan, president of the Associated Students, expressed their gratitude and that of the students, faculty and alumni to Cox for his wholehearted backing of the school. Pivnick and Homan presented Cox with contributions from alumni and Associated Students for the lighting fund.

QUEEN CROWNED

Following the dedication ceremonies, Homan introduced the candidates for the Homecoming Queen contest. Evie Ramstad, sponsored by Bib 'n' Tucker and Delta Gamma Tau, was crowned with white orchids and each of her "court" received an orchid of the same type.

At the Block S "Blockbuster" dance following the game, Miss Ramstad received a trophy, which Phil Ryan, activities commissioner, announced was to be an annual presentation at State.

GIVEN CIGARETTES

The queen was also given two cartons of cigarettes by the ABC campus representative.

Ryan stated that the trophy would be engraved with Miss Ramstad's name and the date.

Total of $638 was collected by the queen contest, according to Ryan.

The two groups backing Miss Ramstead collected $116; Block S and Phi Epsilon Mu accumulated $92 for their candidate, Carole Stephens, and Sigma Pi Sigma, lone fraternity supporting Patsy Elsener, collected $86 for third place.

Book Industry Class in '49

Next Spring Lyle Gibson, assistant professor of geography, will offer for the first time a course in World Resources and Industries. This course will be of great benefit and interest to students of economics and commerce.

A Stadium Is Dedicated...

STADIUM NAMED; QUEEN CROWNED—State officially dedicated its football field at the new campus last Friday night in honor of David J. Cox, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Ceremonies included speeches and the crowning of Evie Ramstad, Bib 'n' Tucker and Delta Gamma Tau nominee, as Homecoming Queen. Top photo shows the Queen and her "court" as they were introduced (left to right): Pat Mahoney, Barbara Isaacson, Lois Butcher, Nancy Cunningham, Patsy Elsener, Queen Ramstad, Harriet Friedling and Carol Stephens. GO TO POLLS TUESDAY!

A great deal has been heard lately from the adult and junior divisions of the major political parties. They've been expounding at great length on what they're going to do if they have the chance. The parties are concerned over the whims of the electorate, and the electorate seems concerned chiefly with keeping a cent ahead in the high cost of living race and getting baby a new pair of cleats.

When the enigmatic billboards of this campaign are tucked away with remnants of the Portola Festival, it will be too late for those of us who can and don't vote Tuesday to give ourselves the swift kick we deserve. That is, it will be too late to do any good.

Sure, everyone has exams, or a part time job, or a wife, or a boy friend to take up the time that could be used in standing in line at the poll. There are too many items on that Tuesday ballot which should not go begging for consideration.

Besides helping to select the next President of the United States, Californians must consider reapportionment; San Franciscans will wrestle with their consciences over school bonds and library funds. It isn't going to be a snap to climb out of the rut of personal worries and think of the community for a change, but since most of us will be around when the results of this show of hands are put into effect, we may as well take an ACTIVE part in making our collective bed.

Even the "under 21" segment can help in this by urging those elders to vote, those who say they haven't the time, the interest, or what ever they don't have this year which keeps them from going to their neighbor's garage. If they say they are not acquainted with the issues, study the ballot and brief them on what they should already know.—E. E.

The HEP-PER SIDE

By LUISA HEPPER

Although "no seats available" prevailed for many San Francisco Opera Company presentations this past season, a number of Staters were fortunate to obtain tickets through the efforts of the Associated Students. Enough appreciation for that convenience cannot be expressed.

Hepper rating: (Thanks to D. Sterling Wheelwright) four chimes! To those individuals who brought on the many headaches induced by exchanges and unclaimed reservations: four tuba blasts!

Among the Alley Cats who spent the Summer combining business with pleasure were Bill Cook, Al Revelli, Mike Harwood, Tom Williams, Ron Crotty and George Snyder.

They were featured with Maurice Anger's orchestra at Camp Curry in Yosemite from May 22 until September 18. George tripled as second trumpter, vocalist and arranger. He plans a casual band for this Fall.

Schmoos may be getting extinct in Dogpatch, but they will be in evidence tonight at the Music Fed's Dogpatch social. With the "Big Race" yesterday as an introduction, Fedsters are working up to a happy crescendo with the only leap year Sadie Hawkins Day dance in four years.

Incidentally, that was "Stanislaus Shaffsky" conducting the "Starving Quintet" at the race. Clever idea, playing the William Tell overture while the Daisies chased the Abners, wot?

EXCHANGES

By DICK ADAMS

What is the good political word from that Democratic citadel, Arkansas? A remark in the "Arkansas Traveler" gives us a bit of insight.

"... as one fun-loving college student put it the other day, 'We're all still Democrats, but damned if we aren't ashamed to admit it.'

An advertisement in the same Arkansas publication:

"WANTED: Typing work. Will type thesis, term papers, reports, essays or any other geenral typing . . ."

That Ozark dialect is fine for local color, but I hardly think it suits for term papers.

The "Daily Californian" goes to bat for the scientists.

"... Most flagrant example of attempted blackballing is the case of Edward U. Condon, graduate of the University, who was called 'the weakest link in our security chain,' by a congressional committee. Condon was never called before the committee and was never given an opportunity to defend himself. His main claim to infamy seemed to be that he served in the U. S. Department of Commerce at the time Henry A. Wallace was secretary . . ."

Let your conscience be your guide.

I reprint the following thought provoking tid-bit from a recent college publication:

"... Yes, we are guided by the glory and not by the conscience, and yet the shortest way to real glory is by conscience. Real glory is quiet conquest of our immature self and to live for goodness, not for glory."

THE OLD COLLEGE TRY

"But, dear, I've been through that . . . can't you change the routine?"

SAD CASE . . .

COEDS CAN'T WOO!

By RAOUL G. SOSA, Jr.

If nothing else, leap year has proved that when it comes to the art of wooing a man, the college girl of today is a sister-under-the skin to one, Sad Sack. She is so pitifully inept that her actions would produce more than sufficient stimulus for Jonah to volunteer back into the whale.

Once she has managed to lure, blackmail or bribe the bachelor to her home, she has no more iniative than to follow a stereotyped routine which is void of novelty or innovations:

THE ACT BEGINS

No, the curtain doesn't rise with "make yourself at home and take off your shoes." Invariably it's "Would you care to see the family album?"

Few are the boys who have said "NO" to that one, simply because the majority are little gentlemen—though it is difficult to conceive how she will ever be one. But, if his real motives were revealed, they would indicate that he has no more interest in her family recollections than he has of negotiating Niagara Falls confined in a barrel.

What the Hades does he care how Aunt Emily registered on Sunday morning with an ice bag on her skull? He doesn't give a Boulder Dam how cousin Ezra photographed modeling his collapsible union suit!

If she must exhibit her art, why not display something lively, say her French bathing costume—with her in it; or a good book—Bank of America.

PITY THE BOY

After she has nauseated him with the candid mementos, and has made him a candidate for the poor house by permitting his change to trickle down the divan, her next move is usually for an out-of-tune piano which she will insist on rendering obsolete to the best of her mediocrity:

"WHAT shall I play?"

Of all the unmitigated gall! Has she never heard of democracy? Why, of course, he'll suspect she's from Stalin.

And does she have to go through all of Tschaikowski's 35 movements? Must she emulate Lily Pons while she disembowels the maestro? Does she have to frown just because he likes "Bongo, Bongo"? Why must it always be a piano? Hasn't she an old bull fiddle or mouth organ laying around? Can't she change the routine a little, just a little?

Anything—a moose call, or an interpretation of a spaniel retrieving a duck.

HELP WANTED

Now that she has engendered Mozart and the boys to readjust themselves in their graves, it's game time: "Checkers or Parchesi?" Good heavens, can't she play a man's game? Does she have to summon the militia at the mention of craps, and is Post Office so bad?

Comes refreshment time and, "How would you like your coke, cold or warm?" Perfectly silly, isn't it? And just because he happens to dilute it with something from his hip pocket, does she have to pass out? What is she trying to do, give him an inferiority complex?

Now is the time when she begins to gather her wits to ask him "the question." Nine out of 10 times she will employ the trite coaxer, "two can live as cheaply as one," which is definitely passe. And besides, it is a cheap trick!

By either being over-aggressive or much too backward, she will invariably bungle the whole deal; for if there is anything a man detests, it is to have a girl propose to him while he is endeavoring to release his head from under a fanatic Half-Nelson.

And no man has ever acquiesced to a girl asking for his hand in a quivering, Lionel Barrymore falsetto.

Better sharpen up, girls. You haven't long in which to make hay. Lest you forget, the sun shines only every four years.

Homan Message: Board Function

In continuation of the series of articles pertaining to student government, I would like to discuss the make-up of the Board of Control. This board handles the financial department of the Associated Students.

The board is presided over by Hank Marscheck, treasurer of the corporation. Its duties are to amend and approve all budgets, receipts and disbursements of funds of the corporation. Salaries and recommendations regarding the employment, compensation, dismissal or discharge of help, agents and employees, fall under this board's jurisdiction.

All actions, however, are subject to final approval of the Board of Directors as is any board or appointed committees.

The functions of a Board of Control are most essential to operating a corporation of our size. Since our primary source of revenue lies in the sale of student body cards and because of the indefiniteness of these sales, a very close budget must be worked out.

Cheer Leader Queen Here

By AL MARTINEZ

Gloria Reyes, head yell leader at State, came into being on the sun-riddled month of June, the 16th day, in 1930.

An attractive five feet one-inch, Gloria leads the cheering for the Gators during games. While a student at Commerce High School, she did the same, being elected All-City yell leader during her senior year.

Commenting on the spirit at State, Gloria said, "It needs building up. It's good, but it could be better." She added, "As for the yell leaders, what we need is more practice—more precision. But then again, we're only as good as the rooting section."

Gloria entered State at the beginning of the current semester. She majors in Drama and Radio and minors in English. Planning a four-year stay here, she is working for a Bachelor's Degree.

Aside from her love of dancing, Gloria hopes to some day sing with a band. Twice she sang over the air on "Sing With Your Favorite Band," both times winning first prize. This, she says, gave birth to her ambition to sing with a band. Before and during the war, she entertained the armed forces in hospitals and at various camps and bases—Treasure Island being one.

When asked about the plans for the Chico-Gator tilt, Gloria said there was something special being planned. "I hope, though," she added, "it won't be like the Humboldt game. That's when I got over-enthusiastic and fell on my head."

The soccer crew, incidentally, has a real gamester in the brother of the orange derby runner-up, Rudy Clemente, who has been playing the rugged sport with a cast on his left arm since the start of the season. Cage Team Shows Promise

By BOB CALLAN

Coach Dan Farmer is looking forward to a successful season despite the losses of two key men, guards Jack Byrne and Ed Rathjen.

Returning at the forward slots are John Burton and Dick Jaensch. Both are consistent shots, and also are demons on defense. The other veteran from last year's first team is "Big Bill" Callas, who is a rebounding giant.

From last year's reserves "Tex" Williford, Jimmy Wong and Dick Franks have returned. "Tex", a long-shot artist, is slated to hold down one of the guard spots. At the other guard position Gus Skoufus looks very good. Gus is up from last season's J.V.'s and is a greatly improved ball player, especially on the defensive backboards.

"Genial Dan" expects great things of center Angelo Maestri, former St. Mary's star, who will cavort for the State quintet this year. Maestri is a big, smooth-working pivot man, with a wealth of experience and will be a big asset on the Tide team of '49.

From last year's Jayvees varsity contenders Irv Edstrom, Ray Enjaian and Art Chaboya, just to name a few, are expected to be in the post-football turnout.

Jayvee Hoopsters Open Season Soon

Under the tutelage of Ray Kaufman, San Francisco State's Junior Varsity hoopsters have been practicing diligently for their opening game of the season on November 10 against Golden Gate College, which will be played in the gym.

About 25 candidates are out so far and Kaufman expects more after football season.

So far, 25 games have been scheduled, the majority of them preliminaries to the varsity contests. Also under contemplation are several road trips. However, most of these depend on whether or not home team pays expenses.

Marathoners Test Marin In Cross-Country Meet

State's cross-country team takes on Marin J. C. this afternoon at 4:30 at the Lake Merced oval, according to Coach Jack Byrne.

Veterans John Holden, Bill Brennan and Hank Watty have shown that they can be counted on for their share of places in coming meets. New men who show promise as distance runners are Don Johnson, Bob McNemar, Joe Castillo and Arnold Loza.

Wildcats Outcharge Gators For 6-0 Homecoming Win

By EARL GOLDMAN

Chico State's title hungry Wildcats put on a demonstration of the old rock 'em sock 'em school of football last Friday night as they crashed their way to a 6-0 victory over State at Cox Stadium.

The score could easily have been worse. Only Bob Kroeckel's booming punts saved the Gators from a more disappointing showing. The powerful Wildcat forward wall trapped State's backs behind scrimmage time and time again to thwart their offense.

ANDERSON SCORES

The game's only score came early in the second half. A Gator pass was intercepted by Matt Spear, Wildcat left half, on the Gator 48 yard line. Tom "the bull" Wraith, Chico's bone-crushing fullback, bucked the line for eight yards and Bud Schwellenbach picked up a first down on a quarterback sneak. Spear scampered around left end for five more but was thrown for a two-yard loss on the next play. Ed Anderson, on a flanker to the right, took Spear's pass and worked his way to the 20 for a first down. Wraith, on three consecutive line smashes, picked up another first down. Skip McDonald shot between guard and tackle for another first on the one foot line. Anderson carted the ball over on the next play and the damage was done. Schwellenbach's conversion attempt was wide.

BOTH TEAMS THREATEN

Although the game featured only one touchdown, both teams came within 20 yards of pay dirt several times during the contest. The Golden Gators threatened early in the first period when Chico fumbled on the 35 yard line two plays after the kickoff. The Staters took over and moved to within 20 yards of the goal line, where they lost the ball on downs. After two unsuccessful line bucks, the Wildcats punted badly to the 45 yard stripe. On the first play, Greenberg swept around right end and fired to Kroekel for 16 yards and a first down. Bob Keropian picked up nine yards around left end, and Pete Desalernos made it a first down on a straight line buck. But Greenberg lost five yards on an attempted run around right, and his pass on the next play was intercepted by McDonald on the 11 yard line.

Baby Gator Eleven Plays Ram Juniors

State's Jayvee football team received one of the worst defeats of its season last Friday night at Cox Stadium from a strong Santa Rosa JV eleven, 32-2. The Bear cubs featured a strong running attack which was ably assisted by an experienced line. Plagued by the loss of some of their best performers, the Baby Gators were no match for the sparkling offense of the Northerners.

The lone State score came as a result of a bad pass from center which went into the Santa Rosa end zone. Owen Kashivaroff, Herb Osuna, Jack "Cuddles" Clark, and Sal Solina were standouts for the Gators.

Contributing very much to the defeat was the loss to the squad of Frank Ingersoll, Willie Malmberg, Augie "Peanuts" Marino and Jack Caruso, the latter having done yeoman service for the varsity. Next Friday evening the Junior Varsity does battle with the reserve squad of San Francisco City College at Cox Stadium at 6 o'clock.

Tide Nips Aggies In Soccer Match

State's soccer team defeated a strong Cal Aggie aggregation, 3-2, on the Mustang field last Saturday. The Gators came from behind in the last quarter to overcome a Mustang lead of one point. Rudy Neuhaus, Aggie Star, scored one point in each of the first two quarters and the Gater's Bob Cannon tallied for a 2-1 score at half time.

The second half produced some spectacular play on the part of Pete Dalton, State inside left, who scored two goals to assure a Gator victory. Also outstanding for the boys from Haight Street were George Albrecht and Hank Watty. The Gators tangle with U. S. F. tomorrow at Cox Stadium at 10 a.m.

Line-Up Shuffled For Mustang Game; Injuries Numerous

By ED LEVITT

State's wobbly, sputtering football machine, battered down in its last two outings, heads eastward tomorrow for a collision with Cal Aggies at Davis.

In facing the Aggie eleven, last year's Far Western Conference co-champions, the Gators will be up against a squad that has also been stung by defeat, Occidental, Chico and Southern Oregon having turned the trick on successive weekends.

The Mustangs overpowered Humboldt (15-8) for their lone win of the season last Saturday. State also boasts a victory over the hapless Lumberjacks (13-7), as well as Whittier (18-7).

"We should win this one," Coach Dick Boyle predicted yesterday while sending his charges through a rugged "live" tackling scrimmage at David Cox Stadium.

WORKING ON DEFENSE

In addition to tackling, the squad has been working this week on pass defense and downfield blocking—two sadly ineffectual departments in the Chico defeat.

"The boys will be much sharper against the Aggies despite our injuries—and we have quite a few," Boyle said.

State's sickbay list grows with each game.

Here is the complete up-to-date box score of Gator casualties:

Tony Morrow, torn ligament; out for the remainder of season.

Art Valverde, dislocated vertebrae; out for the season.

Jack Newell, suffering from a case of intestinal flu; a doubtful starter.

Frank Rinaldi, badly bruised hip; won't play.

Tony Matulich, bothered by sore shoulder; doubtful starter.

Dick Peterson, nursing cracked ribs; may see action.

RUBIO TO PLAY

Norm "Cub" Rubio will be a definite starter at center in place of the injured Morrow, while Art Chaboya may replace Matulich at end.

State's line will read like this: Ends, Chabot, Chaboya; tackles, Hacup or Newell, Peters; guards, Peterson or Sammons, Lombardi or Root; center, Rubio.

Spearheading the Aggie attack will be Bob "Tiny" Hill, Little All-Coast tackle, and John Neddermman, All-Conference halfback.

WAA Holds Semi-Annual Carnival in Gym Tuesday

State Trains Four For Work With Mexico

John H. Butler, professor of professional studies, announced that as a result of a course completed at State by four students from Mexico, a department of audio-visual work is to be set up in Mexico in January, 1949.

FINANCED BY COLUMBIA

Last year the Columbia Foundation financed the studies of the following four Mexican students at State: Alicia Ulloa, an elementary teacher; Ignacio M. Dell Castillo, an educator; Luis Borjan, an engineer, and Dr. Daniel Espinosa, director of public health in Mexico.

Under the instruction of Alvin Gordon of Contemporary Films, a successful course was completed with each student writing a thesis and making a film on "how to set up slides."

TO INITIATE PROGRAM

As a direct result of this year at State, these four students are in charge of setting up audio-visual programs in their own country.

Not only has State been responsible for furthering international relations and the good neighbor policy, but it is responsible for initiating a new method of study into the schools of Mexico.

File By Dec. 10 For Ed. Courses

All students who wish to enroll in Education 130 and 170, Preparation for Elementary Teaching and Secondary Teaching, should file an application for admission with the Credentials Secretary in FB-102, the Division of Education announced this week. Deadline for applications is December 10.

Before applying for admission to the credential program, students should file major and minor program sheets applicable to the credential sought.

Additional information may be obtained from the Credential Secretary.

Castleberry Talk Featured Poland

Dr. Castleberry, newly appointed faculty member, was formerly affiliated with the American Red Cross in Poland. He spoke on the subject, "Poland: A Case Study in the 'New Democracy'."

RADIO BOOTH

Two Groups Join To Build Facilities

Building of the new radio booth and scoreboard at Cox Stadium was sponsored by Sigma Pi Sigma and Sigma Alpha Eta, service fraternities. The radio booth was built by campus carpenters from Sigma Pi Sigma and the scoreboard by members of Sigma Alpha Eta. The booth is used for public announcing and spotting players at the games. It also contains a special section for the press.

The projects were built with cast-off materials, at little or no expense, what expense occurring being met by the Associated Students.

Our Mistakes Are So Distressing!

Notice last week of the American history and government examinations contained an erroneous and misleading statement, according to Gerald T. White, instructor in history.

The tests are given only once a semester. Re-examination in case of failure of one or both tests may be attempted the following semester. However, Dr. White pointed out that it would be to the students' best interest to review the subjects prior to examination time, and that the students should not attempt to take the tests "cold."

The examinations may be taken in lieu of specified courses to meet the state requirement on American history and government for graduation. More than one failure in these tests would indicate a need for directed study in that subject, Dr. White added.

Tests are scheduled for Monday, November 22, from 4 to 6 p.m. in Anderson Hall, Room 110.

FIELD TRIP

Class Camps Out In Geography Study

The Geography 101 class made its first field excursion on October 9 and 10 at Crystal Range, west of Lake Tahoe in the high Sierras. This site has an elevation of 7500 feet. The students studied plant association, glacial features, and ocean forms. The class camped out during its two day stay and participated in group cooking. The trip was made in private cars. Walter Hacker, professor of geography, accompanied the students.

The next field trip planned for this group will take place some time in November, when the students will trek to the Mother Lode.

Hacker Resumes Lectures at U. C.

Walter Hacker, professor of geography, will resume his lectures at the University of California this coming Spring. Dr. Hacker will give lectures on his specialty, the Geography of China and Japan. He has lectured at the University many times in the past.

Blood Donors Are Needed

One hundred fifty students are wanted as blood donors, according to a statement released early this week by the office of the Dean of Men.

Those interested in collecting $25 for donation of a pint of blood may meet in Room 106, College Hall, Monday at 1 p.m. Minors must have parents' consent in order to donate.

A representative of the Veterans' Hospital will be present to explain the procedure and accept applications.
